Elendi: The Elden Ring's Experience

The official website is currently available in English, Chinese, and Korean. We'll gradually add more languages over time. In addition, this will be followed up with translation activities of keywords and icons on the website. You can always check the forums, where they will be translated into several languages.

Around the time when we're preparing the voice patch for the anime commercials, which starts from the second half of August, we're intending to make it available as an on-line service. If you are planning on an English-only release, we suggest you wait until September.

HAIL TYRIUS!

That's right, as part of the Elendi marketing push, we've also prepared an English localization of the Tyrius of "Grimoire Trial" and "Etosia". These games will be with you from October 4th.

Please check the details below. Have a nice day!

App Store: 4.5/5 Google Play: 4/5 Typically, when a wireless telecommunications device, such as a cellular telephone or a personal digital assistant ("PDA"), subscribes for wireless telecommunications service, the device is assigned a phone number or access code that is used to identify and to contact the device. After the device subscribes for wireless telecommunications service, the device sends a "registration request" to the wireless telecommunications service provider that indicates to the service provider the assigned phone number or access code of the device. The wireless telecommunications service provider then provides the phone number or access code to the customer of the device. Further, some devices, such as emergency service dispatch systems, provide service to multiple locations. For instance, an emergency service dispatch system may be used by a city's police department, fire department, and ambulance service. Each of these services often maintains its own separate customer relationship management ("CRM") database that stores information such as the customer's name, address, telephone number, and other pertinent information. Using the device's CRM database, a dispatcher of the emergency service dispatch system may access and retrieve information from the device's CRM database to assist in the emergency. Further, when an emergency call is made, the emergency service dispatch system may route the emergency call to a location closest to the caller. Because there may be multiple versions of the same device operating within a jurisdiction, each with its own phone number or access code, it is often difficult for a dispatcher to ensure the devices for which the emergency service dispatch system provides service are properly handled. If a dispatcher receives a call for an unknown device and a device having the same phone number or access code is a few blocks away, the dispatcher may need to waste valuable time locating the correct device before handling the call. Thus, there is a need in the wireless telecommunications arts for a method and apparatus for identifying a wireless telecommunications device.

Kneih's Pipeline Capable Addons Repository I tend to keep things simple. One file, built with CloudFormation and all that. At least, I did. Until Kneih. I have no idea what Kneih is, and I certainly have no experience with them. The problems, however, are big enough to warrant

What's new:

Pretty impressive, right? The mist is pretty romantic and the text looks cool -- check them out in the gallery below! Can't believe it's been nearly a month since we last looked at a new Senran Kagura game. I know, I know, shit's been real busy. But if you're so inclined, and have a Wii U sitting in front of you -- hit the gallery of images and go crazy.

If that wasn't enough, we have a word from producer and director Kenichiro Tsukuda himself. We asked him to sum up Senran Kagura: Peach Beach Splash in one word and he came back with this: "Horror." I mean, I'm going to be perfectly honest with you and tell you that he wasn't all that happy with his answer. But I like him and I like that word so here it is.

With a Sept. 27 release date, I can't see why anyone wouldn't want to hop in and enjoy Senran Kagura: Peach Beach Splash. Get yourself a couch, play with a turtle or your girlfriend, and brace yourself for jump scares, dropped psychobilly, and plenty of jet black cleavage. And don't forget to stare into the abyss.

Senran Kagura: Peach Beach Splash releases on Sept. 27 for the Wii U. And if you pre-order, you can pick up the "low-poly" edition for $34.99.
