have to call ValidateAntiForgeryToken and AntiForgeryToken attribute in my controller method. How to achieve this with unity container. I am not using any specific framework. A: You don't, that's what services are for! Each request requires a DTO and such a DTO is best passed to the HttpContext.RequestServices if you have it or what's more commonly HttpContext.Items if not. With this, you can easily get the AntiForgeryToken value. GetDto(HttpContext.Items["AccessToken"]); And then use it in any service method you like.
