IMPOSSIBALL was developed by Renegade Ape, a small independent game studio in the North-West of England. Our aim was to create a game that was as much fun to play as it was to watch!

IMPOSSIBALL is a physics game that turns the Pong concept on its head. You play as your favourite video game character in the year 2013. Instead of dodging and going for the gold, you must dodge balls flying towards your ship and try to hit it before it hits you! In IMPOSSIBALL, the game you know and love takes on a whole new life! (Fun fact: An early prototype was a game called "Billowed Balls" in which you were dodging balls out of a billowing circle.) We hope you enjoy playing IMPOSSIBALL as much as we enjoyed creating it! Video Game Console: PC/Windows /Mac OSX Version 0.1 Quaint music, Big fun, less fluff. Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is to claim dominion over the little purple orbs and replace them with yellow. The little purple orbs appear on the screen in random order and randomly change color in the course of gameplay. You can only swap orbs using the arrow keys and pressing space as you cannot click or use any other mouse button. Now that you know the rules, you have a couple of minutes to challenge yourself. As I find myself just idling in front of my monitor and waiting for the next round, here's the music I have prepared for you to listen to. Note: If no music is loaded the default music in the game is used instead.
