"What if the world around us was a game? What if all the obstacles to moving forward in life were temporary obstructions to overcome? What if there was always a way to escape? What if everything we experience, every moment, every minute, was designed for our benefit? Would we have a say in what that fate would be?" Table of Contents 1. Introduction 2. The Law of Differentiation 2.1 Rules of the Game 2.2 The Rules of the Game 3. Instructions on How to Use This Game 4. Feedback 5. Credits Introduction Most games have special dice, or other things, to make them fun. As for guardians of greyrock, this game isn't really one, so it would be boring and very ineffective to just stick a regular die in its place. There is, however, a way to get us to feel what it's like to have all the special die we could ever want! All we have to do is re-design the game in such a way that it's all about dice, not just something to make the dice function. We can replace what the dice do with what we want. In short: "What if the dice did something that made the game fun?" In this case: "What if we used the dice to roll our own fate!" In essence, we would be playing with a single die and figuring out how to use that to alter the game and ultimately shape our own destiny! That's the basis of this game. You can use a regular die to "roll your own fate" and see how you fare. You can use special dice, as in a traditional RPG, or just make your own. Just follow the instructions, and have fun! The Law of Differentiation Differentiation This is a special dice pack that contains the following things: One multicolor, sextant-sized wooden die A set of four wooden rods, measuring from 11.5 to 12.75 centimeters A manual to help guide you through your gaming sessions This woodcraft set is designed to allow you to "roll your own fate" by using a single die to do something new and exciting! You can change the faces of the die (or use any normal die you like), and add as

There's no denying the biblical admonition to "put no confidence in a friend." King David was guilty of this vice, and Hezekiah was too. And Jesus condemns such a practice on four counts. First, our Lord commands us "not to put the Lord our God to the test." "Test" means "to try or prove by one's own effort; examine by trial." But our Lord's Father does not seek to be tested by our effort, nor does He desire that we test Him. Rather, our Lord has no need that we test Him. If we "test" our Lord, "we are no better than those who lay their prayers at the door of God." What other test have we
